THIRD TO KING COBALT AND FIRESTONE IN THE SWIFT STAKES AT ODDS-ON.

Is Worked Out a Full Mile and a Quarter—Roseben Wins in His Old-Time Way—Attendance Gains Daily.

New York, June 25.—After having been relaxed for a week or more the censorship over press matter and telegrams was restored at the track this afternoon. All the sails used formerly to obscure the view of finishes from the outside will be replaced and the utmost vigilance will be enforced to prevent leakage of racing news to the poolrooms. It is thought that by an agreement reached overnight the Western Union Telegraph Company will continue to handle the racing news from the track. The order to install telephones, issued late yesterday afternoon, was rescinded today. The old order of things will prevail for the time being at least, except that a censor will hold up all matter filed for fifteen minutes. Later developments seem to indicate that the telegraphic service at the track will be discontinued at the end of forty-eight hours. It is said that Schuyler Parsons, of the Coney Island Club, has notified the telegraph company that unless it pays rental for the concession the wires must be removed by noon next Saturday.

There was a very fair program offered by the Coney Island Jockey Club today, with the Swift Stakes as the feature. The attendance, which is steadily increasing, seemed considerably larger than on any previous day of the week, but because of the failure of the Collins and Loewy arrests to stand as test cases, a general feeling of uneasiness prevailed among race-goers.

Speculation continued uninterrupted throughout, however. A majority of the bettors suffered financial loss on their betting operations, since every favorite but the last one was beaten. Though on equal terms at 8 to 5 with Bouquet in the opening race, they profited but little over Roseben's success.

D. C. Johnson's great sprinter, backed from 5 to 2 to 8 to 5, came back to his real form with rare suddenness and displayed all his old-time dazzling speed and superlative weight-carrying ability. Notter rode him foully, crossing in front at the start and practically putting Timber out of commission. For this the stewards set the offending jockey down for one day and fined him $100.

Thereafter four stunning upsets followed in quick succession. Caller made an inglorious showing in the steeplechase, which went to St. Kevin. Comterpane, at 1 to 3, ran unplaced in the Rosebuds Stakes, for two-year-old fillies, the rejuvenated Fore spreadeagling her opponents. Hessian, which has been largely in the public eye during the past week as a possible conqueror of the mighty Colin, could do no better than save third money behind King Cobalt and Firestone in the Swift Stakes, and, lastly, Temacoco, at 7 to 10, landed a plodding runner-up to Crack Shot, the medium of a mild coup. The closing race furnished the best contest on the card. During the last furlong of the stretch the proverbial blanket could almost have covered the first six horses at the finish, Waponeca earning a nose decision from Star Thistle.

Hessian was worked out an extra three furlongs in preparation for the Coney Island Jockey Club Stakes next Saturday. His time for the mile and a quarter being 2:07 flat.

F. Burlew will sail for Europe next Saturday. He intends to try for a job as trainer for some rich owner over there.

R. F. Carman will ship fourteen horses to Windsor tonight and will accompany them in person, taking his jockey, G. Burns, with him.

The future entry of Delcanta, the steeplechaser which performed so disgracefully while a short-priced favorite in a steeplechase run last Tuesday, has been ordered refused by the stewards. It is said that the horse belongs to G. W. Brokaw. The trainer, G. W. Wilson, is the man held responsible for the horse's bad showing.

There is no truth in the rumor that a race meeting will be inaugurated at Quebec.

William E. Durgin and Alfred Offerman, employed by the Payne Interstate News Bureau of Cincinnati, O., were arrested at Sheephead Bay today while engaged in telephoning race results to outside connections.

Just after the fourth race deputy commissioner Baker and inspectors Flood and O'Brien, in charge of a number of plain clothes men and piloted by Captain Duhalne of the Pinkertons, got into an automobile and were whisked away to a private house situated back of the first turn. They were at once admitted and going to the garret, arrested two men. They found the garret of the house fitted up with telephones and the men provided with the most powerful field glasses in existence.

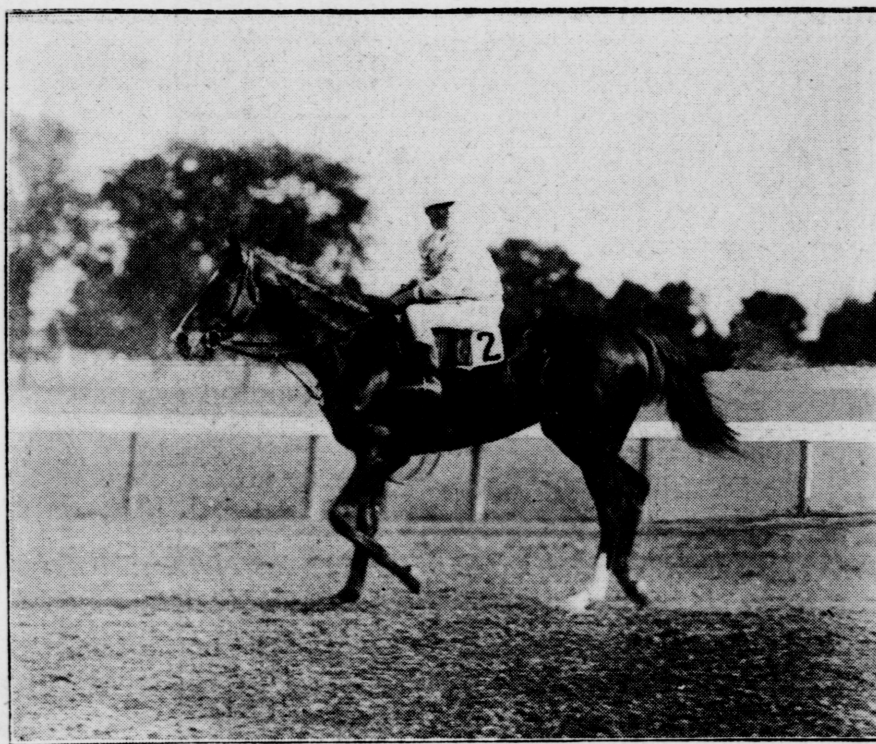

With the aid of the glasses the men were able to see everything that occurred on the track and they at once telephoned it to an address in Cortlandt street and a place in Trenton, N. J., from which it was sent to poolrooms throughout the country.

Durgin states that none of the racing news they were employed to procure daily for the Payne Interstate News Bureau went to the New York poolrooms. As proof of this he cited the fact that complete returns were available in the local rooms on the fifth and sixth races after he and his companion were taken into custody.

PERSONAL LIBERTY LEAGUE DECLARATION.

BALLOT'S MANY REMARKABLE DISPLAYS OF SPEED.

JAMES R. KEENE'S CH. C. 4. BALLOT, BY VOTER—CERITO.

Through his winnings this year Ballot has not only moved up into the aristocratic list of winners of $100,000 or more, but is now fifth in the list as well, Domino, Colin, Sysonby and Kingston being the only horses that have won more money than is now to the credit of the famous son of Voter and Cerito. As a striking feature of the astounding success that has constantly marked the career of James R. Keene as a turfman, it is worth noting that all of these great money earners except Kingston ran in his colors throughout their racing careers.

As a two-year-old Ballot won a purse at Gravesend, the first half of the Double Event at Sheephead Bay, the Neptune Stakes at Brighton Beach and Matron Stakes at Belmont Park. He was also second in the Great Eastern Handicap, Flatbush Stakes and Great American Stakes, and third in the Great Trial Stakes, Junior Champion Stakes and Champagne Stakes. In these races he met the best of his age and year and went into winter retirement with the reputation of being one of the first half dozen in a year of brilliant two-year-olds. Nearing spring of the following year reports were afloat that Ballot was near death with influenza, that he had turned roarer, that he was lame to such an extent that he would race no more and when he took no part in the early racing of last year Ballot almost dropped out of memory, while his grand stable-mate, Peter Pan, became the three-year-old idol of the time.

But Ballot was no has-been and, as it developed, was simply a powerful agent held in reserve to meet situations following possible accidents. The wisdom of this course was made manifest when Peter Pan came out of his grandly won Brighton Handicap so injured as to be unable to race again. Ballot was ready to take his place, and right worthily did so. His first start as a three-year-old was in the Brighton Mile, July 10, in which he ran second to Charles Edward in 1:37. Then in succession he won the Iroquois Stakes and Invincible Handicap at Brighton Beach, Great Republic Stakes at Saratoga and Century Stakes at Sheephead Bay. Peter Pan had run a mile and a quarter in the Brighton Handicap in 2:03, with 115 pounds up, and as a challenge to those who considered Peter Pan his superior, Ballot took up 117 pounds and won the Invincible Handicap over the same track in the same time. His first defeat was in the Annual Champion Stakes, at two and a quarter miles, in which he ran third to Salvadore and Montgomery. Then he won the First Special and Second Special at Gravesend and in these races conclusively defeated such cracks as Electioneer, Salvadore, Frank Gill, Montgomery, Running Water and McCarter. He was then beaten by Salvadore at the Brighton Beach fall meeting in both the Cup Preliminary and the Brighton Cup itself. But he redeemed himself and went into winter quarters triumphantly by winning the Election Day Handicap and the Edgemere Stakes at the Aqueduct fall meeting against high-class opposition.

This year Ballot has started in three races and won them all with hardly the semblance of a struggle. So easily has he won the valuable Standard Stakes, Suburban Handicap and Equality Stakes that, good as he was last year, he seems to be a much better racer this year. The ease with which he won the Suburban Handicap in such remarkably fast time as 2:03 for a mile and a quarter, with 127 pounds up, was simply marvellous. Unquestionably it would have been easy for him to wipe out Broomstick's record of 2:02, and Broomstick carried but 104 pounds.

To date this is what Ballot has accomplished:

fares temporarily. From the statement sent out is this:

"Enrollment is necessary and at once. Send in your full name, your voting address, and do not neglect to state your assembly and senatorial district. The promoters of this league have in mind a thorough organization of personal liberty believers on a broad and liberal basis. They will welcome those who believe in liberal Sunday laws which will permit the man who labors six days a week to enjoy baseball, athletics and other diversions on Sundays if it so pleases him.

"They will also welcome those who believe that there is no more harm enjoying the morals taught by a good play on a Sunday evening than there is to the listening to the music and the singing of the choir in church. They will welcome those who deny the right of fanatical cranks to say when a man shall drink, how much he shall drink and where and how he must drink. These are all matters which directly affect the personal wishes and liberty of the individual, and it is these frenzied attacks of the minority on the liberty of the majority which the league will seek to counteract and obstruct. To swear allegiance to any political party would be fatal to the aims of this organization."

DENVER RACING STILL IN BAD WAY.

Denver, Col., June 25.—Cheap racing is still going on at the half-mile Littleton track, but direct information was filed in the Criminal Division of the District Court yesterday to bring the racing question to an issue. A hearing will be had as speedily as possible in the hope of clearing away legal difficulties to re-opening at Overland under the auspices of the Texas thoroughbred association.

CHULITA AN OAKS WINNER

TAKES THE LATONIA FEATURE IN A CANTER AFTER ELLEN-A-DALE TIRES.

Moquette Runs a Fast Race and Defeats Prince Ahmed in a Sensational Finish—Tom Hayes Manages to Win a Race at Last.

Cincinnati, O., June 25.—The Latonia Oaks, an old-established event here, ranking with the Latonia Derby, was the feature of a good program that attracted a fairly large attendance. Only four started in the event, T. C. McDowell's good filly, Ellen-a-Dale, winner of the Kentucky Oaks, being installed favorite at the opening, but a report that she was ailing caused a change in sentiment and Chulita and Lady Martha, the latter a first time starter this year, were given preference near the close. Ellen-a-Dale made the early running, but after traversing a mile she began showing distress and was quickly passed by the others, ultimately finishing a bad last, Chulita winning in a canter from Lady Martha and Skyo in third place. Lady Martha lacked thorough fitness and tired badly when hard pressed. With the effects of a race or two in her she would probably have been returned the winner.

Chulita and owner Labold were tendered an ovation after the race. Ellen-a-Dale had been suffering from distemper, which caused an abscess to form on the outside of her neck. As she had exhibited no symptoms of fever Mr. McDowell decided to try for the Oaks, mistakenly, as the result showed.

As the horses went to the post McDowell said: "The filly has no fever, but owing to this abscess under her neck I have been unable to do as much with her as I would have liked, and hardly think she is right up to a bruising race. The abscess would not come to a head so that it could be lanced, but she looks good and may come through with a victory."

The mile handicap which followed the Oaks was taken by Moquette in a sensational stretch rush. Prince Ahmed was an overwhelming favorite and appeared a certain winner in the stretch, but Moquette came from last place with an electric rush, wore him down in the closing sixteenth and won drawing away. Jockey Powers, who had the mount on Prince Ahmed, was severely censured for racing the favorite into exhaustion by taking him all around the others on the first turn.

The Alvey contingent also lost a hard race with their Hazelthorpe, on which V. Powers put up a timid ride. Geneva S. ran an excellent race and lasted long enough to take the purse from the fast coming Deacon.

T. P. Hayes managed to annex a purse, his first since winning the Bush Cup at New Orleans with Redgauntlet, when his Plume, a first-time starter, won the opening race from a fairly good band of youngsters.

Joe Gaitens, which recently arrived here with the P. T. Chinn consignment from New York, furnished the surprise by winning the second race in handy style.

Mirzer turned the tables on Mary Talbott, his recent conqueror, by winning as his rider pleased in the closing race.

J. C. Milam's two-year-old colt, Uncle Hawk, died this morning from pneumonia.

Barney Schreiber will ship the two-year-olds Empereur William, Woodlands Rose and Joe Rose to New York next Sunday. The G. J. Long consignment, numbering nine, including Sir Huon and Arcite, will leave at the same time.

John Louis has been sold to G. Riffe, of Chattanooga, Tenn. It is said the same owner has an interest in the horses racing in the name of W. F. Mathews.

Although showing timidity on several of his mounts jockey Powers managed to ride three winners during the afternoon.

There was considerable excitement just after the first race when a track policeman discharged his pistol after a fleeing handbookmaker. Jockey Coleman, on Procla, seeing the action, thought the shot intended for him and jumped off his mount. No one was hurt.

Chulita was badly kicked by Lady Martha while at the post.

LOCKE BILL SIGNED BY THE GOVERNOR.

New Orleans, La., June 25.—The Locke bill has been signed by Governor Sanders and will become a law in effect in thirty days from the date of signing. The race track people have not yet indicated what their course will be, President Heaslip of the City Park Club saying it was up to the board of directors of the two big associations, so it will be some time before any definite statement is made from that quarter. It is the consensus of opinion, however, that there will be no racing here next winter, or if there is it will be only a short meeting. So far as the small tracks are concerned, it is believed that, while they may make an effort to operate, they will soon be squelched. The elements supporting the race tracks in the recent fight before the legislature are resigned to the outcome, and the hotel people are already getting busy on a plan of campaign to attract winter visitors in lieu of the race track followers who spent the winter months here. There is an air of gloom at all places where the horsemen congregate.

PREEN TOOK A SQUINT AT THE ODDS.

Seattle, June 25.—The failure of Preen to finish in the money while running as an odds-on favorite was the principal disappointment at The Meadows today. The horse showed his usual speed but failed to stay. William Walker sold him for $1,500 after the race to J. Clark. The public choices acquitted themselves well, two winning and three finishing good seconds. Aftermath lost in the last strides to Bertie A. Osorine would have won with an earlier move. Kokomo succumbed to a better horse with no mishaps. Lord of the Forest had to cut the track record a quarter of a second to beat Luretta and Pal in a thrilling finish. Eyebright won like a stake horse and appears to be continually improving.Bill Mosely, "Michigan" Smith and Harry Robinson arrived today from San Francisco.

NOTTER PREFERS TURNCOAT TO HELMET.

Introduction of the Keene Crack Colt Was in Tuesday's Sheephead Bay Race.New York, June 25.—Jockey Notter rode the horse of his choice last Tuesday when he selected Turn-coat in the second Coney Island race—a purse event and a try-out for both Turncoat, the brown Voter—Costume colt, and Helmet, the brown Disguise—St.
Mildred colt. Notter was given the choice of Turn-coat or Helmet, and he selected the loser, while Ouy Burns scored an easy victory on the latter. It was the first time that Helmet started, but Notter knew that the colt had worked a half in 40½ in preparation for the race.Helmet is the colt that watchers have been expecting for some time, and he made good handsomely, though the field that opposed him was by no means a remarkable one. Away back in the winter there were stories about the real one in the Keene barn, and all the clockers knew it was the son of Disguise and St. Mildred long before he had been named.It may be that Helmet will develop into all that has been expected of him by those who have watched his development, but the race Tuesday was not such a test as would give an adequate line on his quality. He is a colt of particularly sturdy build, and seemed a bit high in flesh, though he has the cut of one that will carry considerable weight at all times. He was level-headed both in the paddock and in the race itself, and has an excellent way of going. Later when he is asked to meet some of the better ones will be time enough to pass judgment on him.Helmet's appearance in the purse race was a tryout for Saturday's $25,000 Great Trial Stakes. Such try-outs are a sort of stable regulation with the Keene cracks. Collin got a similar introduction last season.

NEW YORK HABEAS CORPUS CASES DEFECTIVE

New York, June 25.—The habeas corpus suit to test the validity of the anti-betting law on the question of the right of individuals to make verbal bets at the race tracks, ended today before Justice Bischoff in a special term of the Supreme Court in a technical fizzle. By reason of a decision of the Court of Appeals cited by acting District Attorney Elder, the court sustained Mr. Elder in the contention that the proceedings were irregular and discharged the prisoners, Melville Collins and Joseph Loewy. The effort to test the validity of the betting laws failed, therefore.When Delancy Nicol, John R. Stanchfield and Captain H. Barry, counsel for the prisoners, announced that they were ready to proceed with the argument, Mr. Elder sprang a surprise. He told the court that there was no use in proceeding with the case, as the prisoners were illegally committed feared the Court of Appeals would do as it did in a previous case, hold that the commitments were illegal, and the question of law involved could not be passed upon in view of the defective commitment.It was a victory for the defendants, but was unsatisfactory to the counsel for the Jockey Club.

They announced that when new arrests were made the proper commitments would be made so that the law could be tested. Corporation Counsel Pendleton, who will on Monday personally argue before Justice Blanchard against the continuance of the injunction order secured last week by the Coney Island Jockey Club, restraining Police Commissioner Bingham and the police generally from interfering with its business at the race track and from arresting and interfering with persons not actually violating the law, was present and listened attentively to the proceedings.

CANADIAN TURF IS IN GOOD ORDER.

Buffalo, June 25.—Francis Nelson, of Toronto, one of the foremost sportsmen of the Dominion, came over from Canada yesterday to look over the improvements at the Fort Erie plant with President John Madigan, of the Niagara Racing Association today. At the Iroquois last evening Mr. Nelson declared his regret that laws affecting racing had been passed in New York state."What is the situation in Canada?" he was asked."Of course," said he, "we can always find those who are opposed to the other fellow enjoying himself as he likes, and there may be some sentiment of that sort opposed to racing, but we believe that those who rule Canada are not likely to be found hysterical or pharisaical enough to pay attention to it. Racing has too long been a well established institution in the British Empire to be disturbed.
Movements which arise to disturb racing, we are convinced, have politics of some sort at their back, just what sort we don't care enough to examine.
In Canada at the present time the turf is on a splendid footing, and there is no prospect that action which may be taken in the States will prejudice our legislators. The greatest criticism which is aimed at racing in the Dominion at present is that it is patronized by too many of the best people. We can stand that sort of criticism."

NEW YORK YEARLING SALES TO GO ON.

New York, June 25.—The first yearling sales will be held in the Sheephead Bay paddock of the Fasig-Tipton company next Saturday, when consignments from the Blue Ridge Stud of H. T. Oxnard and the Dixiana Stud of Major T. J. Carson will be offered.
It was the original intention to sell the Dixiana yearlings last Tuesday, and those from Blue RidgeWednesday, but it was decided that better results would come from combining the two shipments and have a combined sale Saturday. The Monday following there will be offered yearlings of Hinde & Baker and Sidney Bedford, and Wednesday, July 1, is the date set for the Edward Corrigan sale.In former years the yearling sales were in full swing at this time and the immense shipment from James B. Haggins' Elmendorf Stud has been disposed of after five days of selling.

NOTES FROM THE BLUEGRASS REGION.

Lexington, Ky., June 25.—Suit to set aside the will of the late James S. Stoll, who was proprietor of the Meadows Stud and owner of a number of valuable thoroughbred horses, was filed today by his widow and her three children, who are his sole beneficiaries. The trouble is that the will named two of Mr. Stoll's kinsmen, who were interested with him in large properties, as trustees of the estate.Edward Corrigan is here on a visit to his farm.
He says the trouble at New Orleans is not based on genuine sentiment against racing, but is a matter of politics.The eight yearlings picked from the Nursery Stud by August Belmont for racing in England, were shipped to New York this morning.R. L. Baker received today the check of Lloyds Insurance Company of London, for $1,901.24 as indemnity for the death of the three-year-old colt R.
C. Rann, which died of pneumonia here in April.

Banner made the running for the first mile and maintained close and game, but unavailing, pursuit of the leader thereafter. Expansionist, a forward contender from the start, loomed up menacingly on the last turn, but tired in the final drive. Motor, shuffled to the rear early, dropped out of serious contention after going a mile and finished easing up. Fauquier was going well all through. Caller, taken back early, trailed the others and was going easily at the end. Paprika was prominent for over a mile, then tired. The winner was entered for $800; no bid.

King Cobalt broke slowly, but established a quick early lead, virtually winning all the way never seriously menaced. Firestone ran in forward pursuit of the winner throughout and, finishing a game second, is becoming good. Hessian, a long-striding, slow beginner, was quickly shuffled back to the rear and closed up steadily on the extreme outside, but could never quite get up. Nimbus showed a brief early lead and afterwards maintained attendance on the leader to midway of the stretch, where he quit badly. Sponder, prominent to the stretch, tired badly. Notasulga was speedy, but failed to stay. Live Wire was badly outrun from start to finish.

Winner—Ch. c. by Star Shoot—Ollie Dixon (trained by W. McCann).
Went to post at 4:27. At post 2 minutes. Start good. Won easily; second and third the same. Crack Shot drew out immediately and made the running by a wide gap and was under a pull for the last eighth, but was ridden out to retain the lead finally. Temaceo, well up, but under pressure throughout, finished with a rush and is extra good. Long Ball maintained nearest pursuit until in the last fifty yards. Lally trailed in the early running and closed up steadily in the last mile. Sailor Girl was well up for a mile, but tired in the stretch. Chantilly, never prominent, ran a bad race, where he quit badly. Showed speed, but failed to stay. The winner, entered for $900, was bid up to $1,200 by R. F. Carman and bought in.
Overweights—Tenancy by Courtesy, 1 pound.

75607 SIXTH RACE—5-8 Mile Futurity Course. (26039-5:51-2-115.) $500 added. 2-year-olds. Maidens. Selling. Net value to winner $550.

Winner—B. c. by Sempronius—Ambulance (trained by W. M. Wallace).
Went to post at 4:57. At post 6 minutes. Start good. Won driving; second and third the same. Waponoca ran lapped on the pacemaker from the start and finally outstayed him in a long stretch drive. Stair Tustle maintained a small lead to the last twenty yards and only succumbed after a game finish. Waterlily ran forwardly from the start, was carried very hard in the turn, and just failed to get up, was best and promising. Ethereal in prominent contention throughout, fired slightly in the closing strides. O. U. Kid finished like a cyclone after being pocketed midway of the stretch and is very promising. Verbatim came from a long way back in the last quarter and the same applies to Nedlim. The latter is a very good looker. Clerf, away badly, closed a big early gap and loomed up in the stretch, but tired badly. The winner was entered for $600; no bid.
Scratched—75504 Lady Swift, 99.
Overweights—Waponoca, 1 pound; Verbatim, 1; Century Boy, 2; Primrose League, 2; Eliza, 4.

PARI-MUTUEL VS. BOOKING ODDS.

Kentucky Owners and Breeders Issue a Statement Through Tom McDowell.

The horse owners and breeders of Kentucky have stepped into the limelight as far as racing in that state is concerned, says the Cincinnati Enquirer. With Tom McDowell as their leader the interested ones got together and prepared a statement of the way things looked to them, and also put them on record on the betting question. The statement is as follows:

"The fact that the Latonia Jockey Club has decided to continue the pari-mutuel system of betting, in accordance with the expressed desire of the State Racing Commission, has not in any manner lessened the opposition to the machines by the bookmakers and professional betting men. To the disinterested onlooker, the arguments pro and con of the adherents and opponents of the machines are intensely interesting. Each side accuses the other of misrepresentation of facts and of a desire to mislead the public. Meanwhile the public are taking a hand in the dispute to the extent that they are beginning to think for themselves. The continued use of the machines to the end of the meeting will be the fairest, as well as the most rigorous, test they have ever had in this country, and the verdict of the public when the present session of racing here is over will be pretty nearly a final one.

"Those who have advocated the machines, in the belief that their employment will make for the good of racing, have little doubt as to what that verdict will be. As a matter of fact, the discussion had begun to lag, and the public was in the humor to accept the machines as an established fact when new vitality was injected into it through the refusal of the Commission to permit the restoration of the books, although agreeing to a reduction in the value of the purses. It looks as though the meeting will go on now in the even tenor of its way. Opposition to the new-old system will continue, but in the estimation of many the machines will silently but forcibly be their own best champions.

"The public is gradually becoming impressed with the fact that the average of odds returned through the machines is better than formerly when the books were in operation. This at once puts a quietus on the contention that 'the more you bet the more you cut your own price,' and that you 'never know what price you are going to get.' Of course, it requires considerable figuring up of the totals registered by the machines to form any approximate idea as to just about what any certain horse will pay. In fact, it is practically impossible to do so, and this will continue to be an undesirable feature of the mutuels until some satisfactory totalizer is put in operation. So far the club has been experimenting with a totalizer of local design, which it is now claimed will fill the bill and will be put into use shortly.

"As to the proposition that every ticket you buy decreases in the proportion the value of that ticket, that cuts no figure whatever when the fact remains that the average of odds is higher than in the books—that is, the straight odds—while on favorites the machines return straight and show prices that would be impossible in the books. One of many instances will serve to illustrate this point clearly. In the Brewers' Exchange Handicap last Saturday the McDowell entry paid a trifle over even money to win ($5 investments returning $10.50), better than even money place ($5 investments returning $11), and nearly even money to show ($ tickets paying $9.50). With slates up the entry would have been at about 3 to 5 to win, with probably some little 1 to 4 place and out to show.

"This is not an exceptional instance by any means. On the same day Sir Hoon paid in like proportion straight, place and show, and any single day's results will prove this statement as to the relative winning results of the books and machines to be correct.

"That the absence of the bookmakers, their employees and the big players, is felt in many ways cannot be denied. It is equally true that the sport, under the present plan, lacks much of the noise, bustle, hurrah and excitement that it formerly possessed. Formerly when a man went racing his interest was largely held in the betting ring. He wanted to see how the money was going and what the big fellows were doing. When he finally made up his mind as to a probable winner he liked to scramble around in an effort to beat the price. He could wait until the horses were half way to the post, and then hustle into the betting ring and get his wager down. The old guard make much of the point, also, that when the books were on owners were woe, if they knew you well, to give you information when they had winning chances, but under the mutuel system, where every wager recorded means a lessening of the price, they are not so much inclined to put their friends 'onto' the good things that occasionally go through.

"The sporting people about town, the cafes, restaurants, theaters, etc., complain that the absence of the bookmakers and big players affects their business, as undoubtedly it does. In truth, with the absence of the genuine sporting element, both the race tracks and the town sporting resorts have taken on a decidedly somber and quiet tone. They are almost as placid and decorous as a church warden's meeting. Advocates of the mutuel machine get back of the opposition with the assertion that in the present condition of the turf the state of things complained of is just what racing needs. It needs to have less of the pyrotechnics of the game
